

Box 78 Shelf 123-1-2-3

Series: Writings (cont)

Wes Jackson's Works (cont): Lectures/Articles (cont)

- File 58: The Good News Is...
- File 59: Ground to Mouth Assumptions and the patterns They Impose
- File 60: Hell is Now Technically Feasible
- File 61: Human Cleverness is a World of Which We are Mostly Ignorant
- File 62: Impacts on the Land in the New Age of Limits
- File 63: Investigations into Perennial Polyculture
- File 64: It's the W(hole), Not the Donut that Counts (Fetzer Foundation Lecture)
- File 65: LaHonda Talk (Toward a New Farming Culture)
- File 66: LaHonda Talk – working m.s.
- File 67: Land Stewardship Project: Ten Good Years in Fighting the Good Fight
- File 68: Learning from the Land
- File 69: Local and Ecological Strategies for Sustainability
- File 70: Meeting the Expectations of the Land
- File 71: Mimicking Nature
- File 72: Nature as Measure for Agriculture and Human Communities
- File 73: Nature as Measure vs. The Nature of Humanity
- File 74: Necessary Marriage Between Ecology and Agriculture, The
- File 75: New Roots for American Agriculture (with Marty Bender)
- File 76: Old Salsola
- File 77: On Becoming Native to this Place
- File 78: One Victory is Not Enough
- File 79: Our Soil's Opinion of Energy Conservation
- File 80: Perennial Grain crop Research: Rationale and Basic Biological Questions
- File 81: Perennial Problem, The
- File 82: Relationship Between Cultural Values and Agricultural Practices and Policies, The
- File 83: Remembering Robert Rodale/Robert Rodale Remembered
- File 84: Rescued by Family Farms
- File 85: Review of the Film Country, A
- File 86: Search for the Unifying Concept for Sustainable Agriculture
- File 87: Setting the Rural Policy Agenda – An Urban Leadership Challenge?
- File 88: Six Assumptions Which Have Steered American Agricultural Practice And Policy
- File 89: Soft Energy Path, The
- File 90: Solving the Problem of Agriculture through Natural Systems Agriculture Research
- File 91: Some Ideas about Indians
- File 92: Some Ideas from the Earth Week Lecture
- File 93: Some Ideas about How to Spend the $2-4 Million
- File 94: Star Wars and Agriculture
- File 95: Statement Prepared for the Kansas State Board of Agriculture
- File 96: Ten Years Ago, Ten Years from Now

- File 97: Thinking Like a River
- File 98: Tom Marsh
- File 99: Toward an Ecological Ethic
- File 100: Toward the Marriage of Ecology and Economics
- File 101: Toward a Utopian Vision Based on Ecological Ethic
- File 102: Truly Radical Alternative: Agriculture Where Nature is Measure
- File 103: 2020 Hindsight: A Retired Kansas Farmer Looks Back on the Revolution in Agriculture between 1990 and 2020
- File 104: Two Paths to Sustainable Agriculture: Justification for the One Less Traveled
- File 105: University of Oregon Lecture
- File 106: Vision
- File 107: What Causes Us to Say that We Have Had a Kitty Hawk
- File 108: What it Means to be Native to This Place
- File 109: Where Agriculture and health Collide: The Coming Epidemics as a Product of the Agro-Industrial World
- File 110: White River, South Dakota – Summer, 1952
- File 111: Why is the Ecosystem Concept Increasingly Given Short Shrift Among Shrift Among Modern Ecologists?
- File 112: Why Lots of People on the Land are Necessary for the Land and the Culture
- File 113: Why Study Complexity: Because We Can or Because We Must?
- File 114: Wilderness as Saint
- File 115: Notes and Outlines
- File 116: Misc. Writing – Incomplete, without title, etc.
- Marty Bender's Works
  - File 117: Significance of the Size of Amish Farms and Families
  - File 118: Use of Human Sewage in Agriculture
- Laura Jackson's Works
  - File 119: Dynamics of Reproduction, Growth, and Perennation in a Prairie Grass
  - File 120: High-Yield Perennials
- Collaborative Efforts of LI Staff
  - File 121: Development of a Perennial Seed Crop Agriculture Modeled on the Prairie Ecosystem
  - File 122: Land Report Articles (4)
  - File 123: Necessary Marriage Between Ecology and Agriculture
- Authors with LI Connections
  - File 124: Mason, Harry      On the Dry Line (Foreword by Wes Jackson)
  - File 125: Mason (cont.)
  - File 126: Worster, Donald    The Ecology of Order and Chaos
- Unknown Authors
  - File 127: Biomimicry – Innovation Inspired by Nature
  - File 128: Farming to Fit the Land – Growing Food Like a Prairie